

JEREMIAH SINKS

Senior Services Manager, Leadership Development

Jeremiah's background includes continuous improvement training and implementation, quality system development, and project and contractor management. He has extensive experience in senior management development for daily operations and culture building including the managerial functions of human resources, operations plant management, purchasing, maintenance & reliability, training, and environmental health & safety.

EDUCATION

B.S., Business Administration with emphasis on HR Management, Indiana Wesleyan University

INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

Purdue MEP - since 2018; consulting since 2017

Automotive

- Operations Manager
- MRO Controller
- Quality Manager
- Health/Safety and Environmental Manager

Mining

- Senior Leadership Team Operational Readiness; Team Manager
- Continuous Improvement Manager
- Safety Manager

Construction

- Construction Manager/General Contractor

Manufacturing Extension Partnership

SKILLS & EXPERTISE

Leadership Development

- Leadership Skills for Success for Frontline Leaders
- Leadership Skills for Success for Managers
- All other Leadership and Human Resources courses

Employee Attraction & Retention

Lean Implementation

IATF/ISO Quality Auditing

Operations Management

International Quality & Supply Chain Management

Purchasing Management

Health & Safety Management

Continuous Improvement Management

Contractor Management

CERTIFICATIONS

Lean Six Sigma Black Belt

OSHA Authorized Trainer for General Industry

MSHA Authorized Trainer

IATF Quality Leader Auditor

Certified Working Genius Facilitator

AWARDS & RECOGNITION

Jeremiah has written two books:

The Field Does Not Come to the Farmer: Leading Gen Y & Z

The Field Does Not Come to the Farmer: Great Management Leadership